TEXTURE TALK

This week, our K-2 scholars created patterned fish inspired by the book Only One You by Linda Kranz. Next we expanded on that knowledge to see that repeating different shapes and lines can give the illusion of texture in our drawings!

IT'S INKTOBER!

This project is optional for any scholars that would like to participate! Stretch and explore your creative muscles to see what you can do!

This month is recognized as Inktober! Create a drawing using that day's theme every day of this month!

Send your drawings to Ms. Miller at 66.cmiller@nhaschools.com! You may see your drawings in the next newsletter!

FAMOUS ARTIST OF THE WEEK

MEET ALIA ALI

Alia Ali is a Yemeni-Bosnian-US multi-media artist. Having traveled to sixty-seven countries, lived in and between seven, and grown up among five languages, her most comfortable mode of communication is through image and multi-sensory mediums.

In her work, Ali brings attention to the division between people and attempts to unite them. She works in fabrics because in her words, "Textile is significant to all of us. We are born into it, we sleep in it, we eat on it, we define ourselves by it, we shield ourselves with it..."

MIDDLE SCHOOL MASTERMINDS

BIG THINGS ARE HAPPENING NEXT WEEK!

6-8 scholars in art and music will be coming together on Monday, October 12th, in a collaboration! Scholars in art have been working hard to create art inspired by their big feelings since the COVID-19 Pandemic in March 2020.

Ms. Zavolta's music student have created songs inspired by the artwork of Ms. Miller's students. Students in both classes will get to see the artworks and listen to the songs that were created and analyze the motifs of both.

Middle School Scholars recently reviewed the Elements of Art and created some AMAZING accordion books!
